

This Momentary Marriage; John Piper
Discussion Questions- Noted by Joy McMinn
Chapter 8: The Beautiful Faith of Fearless Submission

- 1. Piper says, “The call for a wife’s submission is part of a larger call for submission from all Christians.” What relationships are part of this sandwich of submission? pg. 96
- 2. What is the metaphor Piper presents for the portrait of womanhood? pg. 96
- 3. What should be the deepest root of Christian womanhood? In what should a Christian woman NOT root her life? pg. 96-97
- 4. Piper points to three fruitful outgrowths of a properly rooted portrait of womanhood. What type of fruit will a properly rooted life bring forth? pg. 97-99
- 5. What are the six distortions of submission Piper cautions us against? pg. 99-101

- 6. Piper suggests that submission is “the disposition to follow a husband’s authority, and an inclination to yield to his leadership.” What is the exception Piper mentions to this rule or pattern? pg. 101-102

- 7. When a wife disagrees with her husband’s direction, how should she proceed forward? pg. 102